About AfCoDD III

The African Conference on Debt & Development (AfCoDD) is one of three flagship programmes run by AFRODAD. It seeks to bring together all African citizens to discuss, debate, and decide Africa's path towards economic, political, and social self-determination. It annually brings together political, technical, and civic leaders to deliberate and agree on commitments that safeguard the macroeconomic sustainability of the African continent towards achieving the structural transformation espoused in Agenda 2063. Indeed! Africa's development process and structural transformation needs ambitious action and financing beyond the current limitations.

Following the successful AfCoDD I that sought to "galvanise and mobilise a concerted African approach to addressing the current debt crisis" and AfCoDD II under the theme "From Recovery to Reform", AFRODAD and partners present the 3rd edition of the African Conference on Debt and Development (AfCoDD III).

AfCoDD III will focus on the 4Rs for Africa Rule-Maker: "Reimagining, Rethinking, Reorganising, and Remobilising for an African World Order".

The 4Rs

Objectives

1. Call for reforms of the global financial architecture that governs public debt
2. Seek meaningful debt solutions
3. Call for the sealing of financial leakages
